The Home

I paced alone on the road across the field while the sunset was hiding its last gold like a miser. The daylight sank deeper and deeper into the darkness, and the widowed land, whose harvest had been reaped, lay silent.

Suddenly a boy's shrill voice rose into the sky. He traversed the dark unseen, leaving the track of his song across the hush of the evening.

His village home lay there at the end of the waste land, beyond the sugar-cane field, hidden among the shadows of the banana and the slender areca palm, the coconut and the dark green jack-fruit trees.

I stopped for a moment in my lonely way under the starlight, and saw spread before me the darkened earth surrounding with her arms countless homes furnished with cradles and beds, mother's hearts and evening lamps, and young lives glad with a gladness that knows nothing of its value for the world.

Recently, we have involved expert from the US Green Building Council in making our project sustainable. As a personal mission, adding a contribution to this movement is my ultimate goal by playing hand in hand with my dreams to leave an impact on this planet for the better.

Today's time and age weakens a number of social and cultural factors that play into the real estate universe, as is obvious with Dhaka's densely populated living conditions. The problem? Building structures that are neither well planned enough, or adequate enough for our rapidly increasing demographic of flat-dwellers. The aim? Improving both living standards and quality of life. How we plan to do it? bddl Properties Ltd. and every one of its projects, as they take us closer to our milestones on a virtually expanding level.

Moreover, the This, however, is not our only concern, through a vision that takes on a more human approach, BK Foundation is enroute to its individual goals to improve the living standards of people not yet privileged by providing free medical services through free-of-charge friday clinics, paying operation costs based on financial requirements, educational scholarships, agricultural plantations, and most importantly, employment opportunities available in a range of platforms and fields. The FoudnationFoundation is also creating micro women entrepreneurs and ensuring their livelihoods in romoteremote areas of the country.

Through building on my dreams, and building with bddl Properties Ltd., I believe we can pave the path to a new future, a better future.
